The ladies of the Albuquerque Women's club are still waiting to see what the Morning Journal has to say about their paper issued from the office of The Evening Citizen last Tuesday.

The Christmas number of the Normal, published in the interest of the Silver City Normal school is out. It reflects a high degree of intelligence on the part of those connected with the school and indicates a lively interest in all matters educational.

Charles L. Thayer of Joulia, Mo., was in the city yesterday between trains en route to Payson Hot Springs, where he hopes to find relief from a bad case of rheumatism that has been troubling him for some time. Mr. Thayer is secretary of the Gold Bullion Mining company, operating in the Golden district.

If you want to see a real good comedy melo-drama—one that has a pretty story and well told—where pathos, tears and comedy mingle together in a way that pleases all and leaves offends—go to the girls' theatre Christmas and see the great melo-drama "Anita, the Singing Girl," by Tom Gould. It will certainly please you.

"Anita, the Singing Girl," is the production at the Elks' Christmas matinee and night, December 25, and a good one at that. Not one of those cheap, trashy melo-dramas—but a play—one that you can remember and always be glad to see again. For Anita is a character that endears herself to all who are fortunate enough to see her.

William Farr, who has recently returned from a visit at Brawley, Cal., in the Imperial valley, declares the reports about the situation there since the flooding of the Salton Sea by the Colorado river, are grossly exaggerated. Mr. Farr, who is an experienced cattle raiser, says that it will take three years at least before the Imperial valley is in danger at all and that in the meantime the engineers are building levees to keep the river out.

The Christmas number of the "College Weekly," a breezy little paper published by the Stenographers' Association of New Mexico in the interest of the Agricultural college at Mesilla Park, is out, and The Evening Citizen is in receipt of a copy. The issue contains a number of interesting articles, prominent among which is a poetical satire on the recent football game between the Agricultural college team and the "varsity boys." The Weekly also contains in separate form a well executed half-tone picture of the college team, which at present holds the national championship of the territory.

(Monday, December 24.)
